Passage Reading Level: Lexile 1120

1. D a physics professor who traveled to outer space in 2005

2. C This passage describes the trip that a private citizen took into space and his preparation for it.

3. B During just two hours of practice, Olsen sweated off more than three pounds from his 170-pound frame.

4. D happy and thankful

5. A Greg Olsen's preparation for a flight into space and his experience in space

6. B people who travel into space

7. C although

8. Suggested answer: Olsen learned Russian during his training.

9. Suggested answer: Learning Russian resulted in Olsen bonding with his Russian crewmate and training personnel.

10. Suggested answer: Answers may vary, as long as they are supported by the passage. After Questions 8 and 9, all students should be able to cite the Russian language as an example of something Olsen learned in training and used in space. Students may also cite such examples as the simulation practice of adding oxygen into the Soyuz cabin as something that he used in space. In general, Olsen's training prepared him for his trip into space with classes and flight simulations.
